ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAMS.

HAVAS AGENCY

Rome, 4th.

Depretis has resigned the portfolio of Foreign Affairs which he has held temporarily since Minister Mancini's resignation, General Conde de Robilant, Ambassador to Vienna since 1876, being named to the post.

Paris, 5th.

Legislative elections for the Chamber of Deputies took place all over France yesterday. There was no disorder.

Owing to the new system of scrutiny adopted for the first time at these elections, the definite results will be delayed a few days.

Vienna 5th.

In political circles it is thought that the powers will recognize the union of Bulgaria and Roumelia, naming Prince Alexander King of this united monarchy; as with Austro Hungary the new Kingdom will have two distinct administrations for the two States.

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

London, 3rd—A telegram from Berlin states that Austria secretly supports Servia. This report is credited in diplomatic circles.

Every preparation has been made for the reception of the King of Servia, which is to take place on the 8th inst., in ancient Servia.

A telegram to the Daily Telegraph states that 6,000 Russians have crossed the Danube and entered Bulgaria.

Crowds of Bulgarians arrive in Roumelia by the night trains. Active telegraphic communication is being carried on between St. Petersburg and Rustchuck.

The Daily News correspondent in St. Petersburg says that there are reasons to believe that, at the coming Conference, Turkey will propose the "statu quo" in Roumelia. It is thought that Russia, Austria and Italy will support Turkey; but it must be taken into consideration that the Austrian Ambassador has held an interview with Prince Bismark at Friederichsruhe. Immediately after the interview, a certain difference was remarked between Austria and Russia.

M. de Giers, the Russian Premier, has advised the Powers to consent to the armed intervention of Russia, in case the Servians enter Macedonia.

The Porte is actively engaged in sending troops to the maritime provinces in Asia, as far as Salonica.

Constantinople, 2nd—The Sultan has received some advice from Prince Bismarck respecting the Roumelian question. It is believed that Turkey will follow a policy in harmony with that of the German Chancellor.

Rome, 2nd—Yesterday 179 fresh and 80 fatal cases of cholera occurred in Italy. Cholera is rapidly spreading, and great alarm prevails, owiug to the report that several cases have occurred in Genoa, of which one proved fatal.

Rosario, 5th—Sagasti's premises are still burning. An iron girder fell yesterday and killed a cartman.

Galvez's candidature was proclaimed yesterday in Cañada de Gomez.

Montevideo 5th—The new saloons in the Hotel de Piramydes were inaugurated on Saturday night, a ball having been given for the occasion. The concourse of people was immense.

The Razon states an important and well-known officer in the army has been arrested. The name of the prisoner, however, is not mentioned.

The Aguirre company has broken up and will leave shortly.

The Saladero Conforte del Cerro has been purchased by the sociedad Agricola Pastoril.

It was rumored on the Bolsa yesterday that a new loan was on the tapis. The official papers, however, contradict the rumor, and state that Government has no intention of issuing a new loan.

Dr. Costa's departure was unexpected. The Doctor's letters are the absorbing topic of the day. It appears that opposition articles published in the papers were written by two well-known Argentines.

Dr. Costa was accompanied to the Mole-head by a crowd of friends, including a foreign diplomatic representative, which circumstance attracted much attention.

News is scarce, and politics seem to be in a perfect state of lethargy.

An article in one of the papers, alluding to a possible revolution, has caused great commotion in political circles.

MR. VILLALONGA'S REPORT.

It is no empty compliment to Engineer White, when we state that the National Department of Engineers, over which he presides, is by far the most advanced branch of Government service; nor to Mr Villalonga, if we add that his report, on railways in general and on State lines in particular, is not only the first, but the most comprehensive document drawn up in this regard up to the present. The growing and transcendental importance of the National Engineering Department; its wide sphere of action, embracing the whole republic, and the immense work compassed every year, are gauged at a glance, when we peruse the 200 pages of Mr Villalonga's report, which by-the-by only dwells on one branch of the Engineering Department.

The report before us embraces the working and general condition of railways in the country, the amount of capital invested in national railroads, the amounts of money needed to complete them, quantities of materials received from Europe, their cost etc. According to this report there are at present in the country 5,823 kilometres of railway with a money capital of 140,947,555 $m/n. Five thousand kilometres are completed, and the remainder will be finished in eight or ten months. The State lines have a length of 2,800 kilometres, of which 924 kilometres are Provincial lines and 1876 National. The length of private railways is 3,023 kilometres. The following is the rolling stock:—

	State Lines	Private Lines
Locomotives	227	171
Passenger cars	246	326
Goods' waggons	4,296	4,336

with a maximum carrying power of

Passengers	9,148	14,052

Private lines	81,280,461 98	26,887 35
Total	140,947,555 42
Average		24,205 31

The following figures shew the length and capital of all the railways of the Republic:—

Railways.	Kilometres.	Capital.

Total private lines	3023	81,280,461.98
Grand total	5823	140,947,555.42

The working of the railways of the country last year extended over a length of 3,583 kilometres, representing a capital of $88,086,475.64, with the following results:—

	$
Gross returns	14,028,952.71
Expenses	7,577,461.94
Net returns	6,451,490.77

The ratio between returns and expenses was as follows:—

Expenses	54 o/o of returns
Net	46 o/o „

These figures shew that railways in the Argentine Republic give 7.32 o/o on their capital, against—

4½ o/o	in the United Kingdom
5 o/o	„ the United States
4½ o/o	„ India
4¼ o/o	„ Germany and France
3¾ o/o	„ Australia and Belgium
2 o/o	„ Canada

Argentine railways obtain by far the highest return of any in the world as regards net profit on capital employed. The returns of all nations for 1882 showed only five countries in which the railways produced over 4 o/o net profits on their cost of construction. The average of working expenses in the Argentine Republic for 1884 is 54 o/o, against 52 in the U. Kingdom and France, 51 in India, 54 in Germany, 61 in Australia, 62 in the United States, and 77 in Canada. Working is comparatively cheap in the Argentine Republic.

The following table shews the capital of each line in 1884, the interest returned on capital, and the ratio of expenses compared with gross receipts:—

Railways.	Capital.	Interest.	Expenses.
	$	o/o	o/o
Western	15,442,855.00	7.61	62.44
Andine	9,414,000.00	3.31	52.09
Cent. North	11,558,946 21	7.08	45.62
Prmer E. Riano	153,839.73	..	159.91
Gt. Southern	26,571,733.00	6.43	58.37
Cent. Argentine	10,420,539.92	16.11	39.25
B. A. & Rosario	2,066,670.80	9.28	53.02
East Argent	4,972,872.00	1.95	61.94
Ensenada	4,048,144.98	7.85	55.96
North B.A.	2,403,574.00	7.64	54.94
West Santa Fé	1,033,300,00	..	133.23
Average	..	7.32	54
Total capital	88,036,475.64

If we except the East Argentine, the unlucky Primer Entre Riano and West Santa Fé railways, we see that all the other lines give most satisfactory returns. The Andine will probably give 6 to 7 o/o interest this year. The West Santa Fé would be an excellent-paying railway if extended to Venado Tuerto and the Transandine Railway.

The following figures of net returns per annum show the steady progress of the national lines. The Andine Railway, it must be remembered, was only completed towards the middle of the current year, and the net returns we give below only refer to part of the line, open to public traffic:—

	Cent. North.	Andine.
	$	$
1878	134,946.73	..
1879	207,112.15	..
1880	397,468.22	..
1881	222,227.70	..
1882	357,859.53	179,799.92
1883	622,706.77	188,173.33
1884	818,550.93	311,484.73

We reserve for further chapters some very interesting figures of traffic and of cost of materials, etc. Before closing this chapter, we call the attention of all to the importance of the report and congratulate Mr. Villalonga and his staff on the industry and ability that are visible in every page of this official document.

CURSO FORZOSO DEBATE.

The debate on this all important measure was continued yesterday, Congress being more crowded than ever, the interest being so general, to hear the speeches on article 4, which, as we before mentioned, has even a wider jurisdiction over business affairs than even the emission of Bank notes. Article 4, as passed by the Senate, reads as follows:—

"All obligations previous to the date of the 'curso forzoso' decrees can be paid off and discharged in Nat. Bank notes at their nominal value, notwithstanding the special form or money expressed in said obligation."

This article was completely eliminated by the Committee of the House of Deputies, and Article 5 of the Senate law was Article 4 of the Deputies; it read as follows:—

"Art. 4. Six months after the passing of this law, no bank notes of the "banks comprehended by the curso "forzoso decree, shall circulate or be "current unless they bear the National "stamp, and in conformity with this "law the banks shall duly call in all "their notes in order to have them so "stamped. The banks that fail to "comply with this Art. shall cease to "enjoy the benefits of this law."

Such was the great anxiety to hear the debate on this Article, that long before the doors opening on the Plaza were opened for the public, crowds had entered Congress by the portico for the Deputies, and secured seats beforehand in the galleries, so that when the public entrance was opened by the police the galleries were almost full.

Dr. Ruiz de los Llanos presided, and, the act of the previous session read and approved, the Secretary read the amended postal law by the Senate which imposed half cent postage on newspapers. It being put to the vote the House rejected the Senate amendment, and the Postal Law now stands as passed by the Deputies, the amendment by the Senate being thrown out.

The "Curso Forzoso" Law was then brought up. Art 4 order of the day.

Mr. Civit, Deputy for Mendoza, moved that before the House took up the order of the day the Deputies should discuss Art. 4 of the law as passed by the Senate and eliminated by the Committee. He said that in committee, Messrs. Villamayor and Solveyra had opposed the Article on the ground of its inconstitutionality, and Sr Solveyra had quoted a decision of the U. S. Federal Court, denying the right of U. S. Congress to legislate on contracts already existing, or to pass retrospective laws. Mr. Civit however, quoted Marshall and Story in support of his views, and showed that the highest court of the U. S. had held that the law is constitutional. He touched on the old paper dollar and its history up to the "oficina de cambios." The President of the Deputies, Dr. Ruiz de los Llanos, here interrupted Mr. Civit, stating that the best course to adopt was to read Art 4 as passed by the Senate, and then for the House to discuss it, as at present it was hard to say whether it was Art. 4 of the Senate or Article 4 of the Committee, the Deputy of Mendoza was debating.

Article 4 of the Senate law was then read, and at the conclusion half-a-dozen members asked leave to speak.

Deputy Calvo said the subject came by surprise on him as he thought they were to discuss the report of the Committee, and that as regards the Senate Art. 4, he could not vote being an interested party, having rented a house to a man last year in gold; he therefore declined to vote and rose to retire.

Deputy Paz opposed and said this was all nonsens, for that as well might they all refuse to debate Articles 1, 2 and 3, which affected the very value of the money in their pocket; hence they were all interested.

Mr. Calvo retired.

Mr. Seru moved that the session be suspended, and Article 4 by the Senate be sent to Committee of Hacienda to report on.

Mr. Argento showed that the case in point was not included in the "Reglamento", but as both articles formed part and parcel of the same law, the matter had better be sent back to Committee, and meanwhile the House could go on with some other bill.

Gen. Mansilla offered some remarks, but he was interrupted by Dr Leguizamon, who called attention to the fact that there was really nothing under discussion.

The President of the Chambers then put Mr Civit's original motion to the house that the matter be sent back to Committee, for the insertion of Article 4th of the Senate law and their report thereon, which was carried by a large majority, and the house then rose.

As the bill now stands, up to Art. 3 is passed, and possibly the Committee will dispatch Art. 4 to-day and send in their report without delay, in which case the bill comes up for debate this afternoon at 2 o'clock, but many parties in the anti-chambers said that they thought it probable the report by the Committee would not be ready for a day or two. It is very difficult to offer an opinion, but it seems probable that Art. 4 of the Senate will be passed, but not in present shape. We think in a modified form.

DUSE-CHECCHI AT THE POLITEAMA.

The crowded aspect of the Politeama on Saturday night was a brilliant tribute to the talents of this far-famed actress. Since the improvements recently made, the theatre, which is the largest in the city, presents a most imposing sight, with its immense galleries, numerous boxes and enlarged pit, not to mention the "gods" and "cazuela," which contribute, in no small degree, to enhance the beauty of the house. The ceiling also is altered, and represents a clear, Italian sky, calculated, no doubt, to kindle fond recollections in the minds of the numerous occupants of the "gods."

Four thousand people had assembled, eager to see this actress, whose fame had reached Buenos Ayres long before she had arrived herself.

In the boxes, which were all occupied, we noticed the cream of "Porteño" society, and a more charming display of beauty it has never been our lot to gaze on anywhere. We were glad also to see several boxes occupied by representative English families. In the pit not a seat was vacant, and the Italians had mustered strong in the "gods." Everybody and everything appeared ripe for enthusiasm.

The curtain rose on Sardou's "Fedora," amid the most breathless silence, and all eyes devoured the figures on the stage in the hope of discovering which of them was Duse-Checchi. Some uncertainty in this regard evidently prevailed, for even our Italian friends in the "gods" were at a loss, and loudly applauded three actresses then upon the stage. They were evidently determined to hit upon the right person. However, they were mistaken, for Duse-Checchi made her appearance later on. At first sight this actress is uninteresting. She is not tall, although her slight figure and thin face make her appear above the average height of women. She is not lovely, nor handsome, nor even pretty. Her features are not of the most classical; yet, when she speaks, there is a certain earnestness in her voice, a certain gleam in her eyes, that exercise a strange fascination and keep the audience spell-bound. Her gesticulation is nervous and admirably natural, but not excessively so, as is the case with many actresses of an inferior school. Her voice is pleasing, though not clear; her articulation is perfect, and we observed that, in moments of great passion and strained feelings, she refrained from shrieking, unlike so many actresses we have seen in Buenos Ayres. The expression of her dark eyes lends itself admirably to the situation; with marvellous facility and effect they assume the terrible gleam of suppressed rage, the soft, dreamy look of love, or the expression of perfect indifference, as the situation demands.

In "Fedora" she is the incarnation of the character, and on Saturday night the enthusiasm of the house rose to such a pitch that she was called out six times on the stage after each act. Duse-Checchi exercises a strange power over her audience, and this power does not lie in any one of the acquirements we have above-mentioned, but in the marvellous combination of the three. Her sojourn in Buenos Ayres will be a long list of triumphs, which will afford her many pleasant recollections during her travels.

On the merits of the other artistes" we need not dwell; suffice it to state, that the present company, although exclusively Italian, eclipses all dramatic companies that have yet visited the Plate; and we have no hesitation in recommending to our readers the Politeama, as the best and most appropriate way of passing a pleasant evening.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

August 26th.

M. Renard takes stock of England during the last fifty years; the inventory is curious. In 1815 a sea of blood separated the two nations; today, oddly enough, they are separated happily as ever by the Straits of Dover and the used-up hypocrisies of ententes cordiales, alliances and commercial treaties. Since Henry VIII, Queen Victoria was the only English sovereign that put foot on the soil of France, save in exile. And to think in the fifteenth century, Henry VI. of England was crowned King of France—a small consolation for the Norman conquest at Notre Dame. France sheltered James of England, and, not to be out-done in politeness, England gave a home to Louis XVIII., Charles X., Louis Philippe, and Napoleon III. Guizot repaired to Britain to study the Parliamentary system of Government at the fountain head; he returned only with the forms of Constitutional Government; the essential give-and-take toleration for political differences was as factor unknown to his volatile countrymen. Thiers dropped in also to look up the system of railways, and officially reported, they were inapplicable to France.

Now railways were the chief bond of union between the two countries; they enabled the played-out sovereigns of France to bolt more rapidly from their howling, loving subjects; they facilitated Royalists, Bonapartists, aye, Communists and Republicans, to reach her shores and cling thereto as to the horns of the altar. Naturally all these political waifs and strays brought home notions when they regained the native heath. It is thus that the Boulevards became macadamised; wooden pavement was introduced, as laid down by English workmen; the latter constructed and contracted for the railways. At first the Parisians were opposed to gas-lighting, but ultimately yielded, as they have done respecting the metropolitan underground or over-head line. The travelling vehicles, 'coucou' and diligence, have been superseded by the mail coach, tilburys, breaks, and victorias. Publicity never was felt to be a want in France, yet advertising vans and sandwich men insist none the less on supplying it.

Squares or lung-holes have been borrowed from England, and also the name; there are cottages even, but not near woods, as in streets. Shops commence to close on Sunday, so that the city will be abandoned soon on that day to a policeman and the dog of the Derby race-course. The houses—the new ones, are no longer casemates; they are built on English ideas of space, air, and light, and every Frenchman's compartment on a flat, is his castle. They are furnished with all the comforts of a home, carpets, flowers, water, gas, and heating apparatus. An English philosopher laid down that the civilisation of a people can be measured by its consumption of soap. "How are the French off for soap?" There is even to this day a good deal of "washing the hands with invisible soap, in invisible water." There are numerous young "citoyens" to whom one may say, "Oh you dirty boy!" So limited still is their 'culte' for soap or suds.

Only the French "are of the religion of Voltaire," still they might be recommended the Englishman's prayer, who, in addition to supplicating for his daily bread, demanded to have also a clean shirt. Now white linen is, among the great unwashed, rare. Some attribute the cause to spinners, who keep out American cotton as they do Cincinnati pork and English threads. It is "perfide Albion" that has taught monsieur the use of the morning tub, and which prolonged the life of Hugo a decade; that indicated to mothers, bare legs for her children instead of swaddling clothes, and the advantages of Mackintoshes, Macfarlanes, Cheviots and Ulsters.

Under the Revolution France parodied the names of Rome, Athens, and Sparta. Strange, there was a decided leaning for the undemocratic name of Julius; a barber was Brutus, and so an honorable man; Themistocles blacked your boots, and Leonidas mended them. The classical was even superior to the romantic; who under Napoleon I, sought in Ossian, and not the Calendar of Saints, the family formula, to present your coming under the generic M or N of the catechism? To-day, all is Albert, William, Jenny and Mary—men cannot borrow the latter form of the Saint's name; even a Spaniard, gourmand as he is for a sausage roll of prenomens, would shrink from the deed.

English, that is Anglo-Saxon, influence has transformed, but not deformed, French manners. Thus routs, lunches, teas—no longer tisane, and toast, are as common as on the other side of the channel, so is 'the plum-pudding,' through served in a liquid form. However, faith and a little blazing rum make up the difference. Beefsteaks have cut out the 'pot-au-feu,' so defamed by the Tonkinois Ferry; 'rosbif' is more in favor than 'tête de veau;' "pel el," porter, punch, grogs, lobster salad, and bars, are orders of the day and night. A special edition of the Academy would be required to encorporate alone the terms and technicalties of the world of sport; unless some immortal with a Voltaire energy came to judgment, the work would only be completed, about the same time as the definite establishment of the Third Republic. Sport, box, cricket, crocket, lawn tennis, yachting, turf, jockey, whist, club and tourist, are as familiar in the mouths of the French, as household words. From being the most sedentory, the most Chinese of Western nations, they have become the most travelling-sore, Germany-wards. They have two 'cooks' of their own, guaranteed, that after being a guide to them in the wilderness, will not there bid them, adieu!

If French ladies have dictated fashions to their English sisters, London tailors lay down the law to French clubbists and Paris mashers. In exchange for gracefulness of carriage, well chosen colors and comfortably artistic toilettes, England has taught the French man and brother, virile energy, muscular, vigor and tenacity, useful and practical knowledge. She has left to Bismarck, fortunately, to indicate to the Gaul his colonial Tonkins, and the coming Congo complications, with the self-elected Emile I., emperor of an endless number of cocoa nut and ivory subjects.

If England has borrowed largely from French drama, she has in exchange taught the dramatic ideal to France, and emancipated. Her poets from the yoke of theories; her Robinson Crusoe has roused the spirit of the childhood to literature; her Travels of Gulliver, have learned Verne, Figuier and de Parville, how to popularize sciences; Walter Scott's novels, have made known the middle ages to France; Dickens, what is a people's fireside, and Swift has been the type-writer for political pamphleteering.

Yet, despite all these advantages of intercourse, the English were never less in the odour of sanctity with the French than to-day. Even the "I do not like thee Dr Fell," fails to explain the antipathy. It is not so much the journals which have to depend for their circulation on the intensity of their anglo-phobism as the absence in the more common sense papers of all protest against a tendency, that will irretrievably alienate from her all Anglo-Saxon good-will.

The Conservatoire, or School of Music, is admitted to be in such a bad state, that its fundamental reform is loudly demanded. Its professors being inefficient, may explain why the pupils are the same. The decadence of this free institution, where Mario and Grisi studied in their day, dates from the nomination of the lazy Auber as successor to Cherubini. The present director, Ambroise Thomas, is apparently helpless.

The shooting season, for partridge understood, as there is a constant potting by revolvers between husbands, wives, and sweethearts, and employers and employed, promises to be bad. The spring was unfavorable to hatching. In any case it is not of much importance, as the poachers ever secure the best hauls; only for them perhaps the markets would not be supplied.

The defunct Chamber of Deputies cost about 7½ million francs; that is, each sitting represents 50,000 fr., each speech 5,000 fr., and each 'hear,' 'hear,' or a 'laugh' 500 fr. Silence is gold.

Polygamy must be on the increase in France; the census reveals the total of married men to be, 7,352,096, and of married women, 7,320,510. The excess of 31,586 ladies, must belong to the class of 'spiritual wives.'

Notice to sculptors: Pezon, the menagerie man, wants designs for his tomb that he is erecting in the Perè Lachaise Cemetery. He would prefer something representing him sleeping full length on one of his pet lions.

Wrinkles worth knowing: In the Corea, when a young lady and gentleman are mated by their parents, if they dislike each other, they are horse-whipped till affection sets in. When married, the bride and bridegroom are presented with a red paper, their marriage contract, to read. That effected the document is torn in two, one half being handed to each. While neither possesses both moieties, they cannot remarry.

A few particulars of a missing man: "When last seen, he had a loaded cane and two stuffed teeth."

Bride at the Mayor's office: You must "promise to accompany your husband everywhere. But I could not, Sir, as he is a rural postman."

Drunkard to Magistrate, with dignity and coolness: 'Tis true, I was found lying on the flags, but that was a position the result of necessity, not of choice. I love a comfortable apartment as much as anybody, but pending a diminution of house-rents, I sleep—provisionally, in the streets.

FUNEZ ON "CURSO FORZOSO."

The following is the conclusion of Deputy Funez's great speech on "curso forzoso":—

My Hon. colleague may have likewise observed that the Frenchlaws are quoted on every occasion for the benefit of the public. But we are not obliged to tolerate evils, even if they are tolerated in France.

According to the unnaminous opinion of economists, "curso forzoso" is followed by the immediate efflux of gold. We cannot play with gold and silver. Gold opens all doors.

Our laws and our decrees cannot go beyond our frontiers; and consequently the English and French are not so foolish as to give us gold in exchange for our depreciated paper. If all gold contracts are to be paid in paper and not in their equivalent in paper, then will all our gold fly to more congenial shores and emigrate to Montevideo, to Europe, anywhere outside the Argentine Republic. Whereas, if gold contracts are respected, the banks may count on gold deposits, and the market will be benefitted.

Let us suppose that I deposit a bag of gold in the bank. I wish to draw it and, going to the bank, I make known my intention. Here I am handed a bag of paper! Imagine my surprise, when the clerk tells me that a law has been passed to this effect.

The Minister of Finance.—Ordinary deposits do not come within the reach of the law.

Deputy Funez.—Art. 4 of the project passed by the Senate does not exclude deposits. The article in question extends its action to all contracts and obligations.

The law determines that all deposits shall be returned under the same conditions as when first placed in the Bank. I do not think much deliberation is required to see the difference between a bag of gold and a bag of paper!

The rich, the wealthy bankers, more easily forsee a crisis than the poor people, or the poorer bankers. They immediately turn their paper into gold. What do they care if they lose 3 and 4 per cent; do they not gain 43 per cent afterwards. This is what the rich did; the poor cannot keep their small sums of money in their pockets; besides gold ounces are too heavy for the pockets of the poor, and they endanger him who carries them!

The poor in the Interior are perhaps in a worse plight; when they hear the news of the 'curso forzoso,' alas! it is too late to draw. What happens then? The poor peasant, like the Egyytians, buries his money and dies before he takes it out again. His sons then tell how their father had been well-off, but that he became suddenly poor, and nobody ever knew where the money had gone! They will tell you their deceased father was in the habit of making daily excursions to the neighbouring mountain..! (laughter.)

No writer, Mr. President, upholds "curso forzoso." Fournier, Chevalier, and others say that it is excusable when it is caused by war; but it can never be excused, when caused by public works. These writers also state that it is very easy to know when "curso forzoso" has come upon us, but very difficult to know when it has disappeared. France is the only country where "curso forzoso" has been swept away in 3 or 4 years.

In England "curso forzoso" lasted 24 years, but gold never rose to more than 29¼. And here in an infant country we are already sailing in the clouds!

But what must we do to drive away the "curso forzoso?" We all know what was done in Italy, North America, and other countries. To drive away "curso forzoso" we must have a superavit in our Budget, which we are trying to do, but which we will never succeed in doing, as we are highly gifted in the way of squandering money and displaying the most "outrée" extravagance. Nobody has the courage to put by money for the purpose of paying debts. Therefore, so long as we remain extravagant, we can never succeed in freeing ourselves from our financial difficulties.

I had the honor of being named on the Budget Committee, and my colleagues all shared my views in this respect. We were decided that there should be a 'superabit' in the Budget; but, alas! what with this, and what with that, our good intentions were scattered to the winds. We want sound administration and economy.

With economy and hard work (says Gentis) which are the foundation of liberty, prosperity is attained. Well, we are not economical, and I think the less said about hard work the better. (Laughter.)

Therefore I think that the curso forzoso will become very serious, and we cannot foreseen where it may yet lead us. Entering into other considerations, I may observe that the article proposed by the Senate has this inconvenience; it alludes to the contracts made previous to the passing of the law. And those made subsequently? Is it clearly stated that they can be made. This is not a clear point, for to-morrow a law may be passed annulling these contracts. But why should we annul the past, when it is not in our power to do so? Parliament is human omnipotence; it can do what it likes for the time being. But the past is beyond its reach. Leave that alone then. The future is uncertain; but holds forth hope, a consolation for all our woes. The past takes us back to the days of our youth, days of merriment and joy; a sorrowful souvenir when compared with the present. And now we have a law that says: you were wrong in displaying such merriment, such joy, I must punish you for it now!

I believe that if the article we have suppressed, be accepted, a year would not roll by before the terrible results would drive us to reform it.

Gold operations would be rendered impossible, and we should not even have enough money to imitate the Chilian gentleman who had a condor attached to his watch-chain, as a fond souvenir of the time when he knew what gold was!

If necessary, Mr. President, in the debate "en particular," I shall be only too happy to continue my speech.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

To-day at 2 o'clock the Debate on the Curso Forzoso Bill comes up for final debate. The Committee, to whom it was referred yesterday evening, despatched it in five minutes—

Villa Mayor

P. L. Funes

Ocampo—against Art. 4 of the Senate Law, and Civit and Malbran in minority, in favour.

Yesterday, Colonel Czetz, of the Estado Mayor del Ejercito, Military Engineers' Department, sent us a copy of the New Map of the Gran Chaco, drawn up by order of the Government. It is the best Map of the Chaco extant, and we return our best thanks to the gallant Colonel for his present.

We salute Dr. Cané on his return from Europe, and welcome this distinguished gentleman back to his native land.

In the great land lawsuit of Lanata, versus Bell, final judgment has at last been given in favour of Mr. Bell, which will be welcome news to his wide circle of friends.

The races on Sunday at La Plata were fairly attended, and sportsmen got a better day out of it than they expected. The following are the results;

1st Race — 1,000 metres Carte Blanche, 2nd Elena, 3rd Beduino. Sport 11.45. Time 1m. 5sec.

2nd Race—1,000 metres, 1st Nereo, 2nd Argentino, 3rd Matador. Sport 7.40. Time 1m. 7 sec.

3rd Race—Drenier had a walk over.

4th Race—1,000 metres, Mastel 1st, Elena 2nd, a dead heat was the result. On running it off Mastel won easily. Sport 2.60. Time 1m. 11 sec.

5th Race—A trotting match three rounds, 1st Correntino, 2nd Nereo, 3rd Aromis. Time 9m. 50sec. Sport 33.34.

On Sunday, the funeral of the Revd Mother Angele Louise Munstermann, took place at the Santa Union Convent, Caballito. The deceased lady was universally esteemed; she was the Superioress of the branch of the Santa Union Convent in Calle Peru, and died in the very morning of life, 26 years. Her coffin was covered with wreaths and immortelles, sent by the distinguished families whose children are being educated in the Calle Peru College. She died from an attack of rapid consumption, brought on possibly by over work. Some 5 weeks ago, Madame Imilda, Revd. Mother of the head house at Caballito, took her out there in the hope that change of of air might do more for her than the doctors, but everything proved unavailing, and she expired at the quinta on Saturday morning. Her funeral at the Recoleta was little short of an ovation, owing to the crowds of young ladies who met the funeral there and followed the remains to the grave. The Revd. Dr. Terrero of Flores officiated.

Advices from Bahia Blanca report the new Tornquist colony going ahead splendidly; over 12 colonists' families already settled on the land, and new comers arriving daily.

The Sacred Concert, and Organ Recital at the Scotch Church on Thursday evening next, being to defray the expenses incurred in fixing up pews for the choir, we hope there will be a large attendance, as, in addition to the object, the programme promises a great musical treat. The Concert will commence at 8 o'clock precisely.

The Rev. Dr. Smith will preach on Sunday next at 12 o'clock at the Cabaña, district Cañuelas.

The result of the inscription at the several parishes on Sunday was as follows:—

Catedral al Norte 350
Piedad 170
Balvanera 191
San Nicolas 109
San Cristobal 180
Concepcion 197
Santa Lucia 63
Pilar 125
Monserrat 94
San Juan Evangelista 84
San Telmo 108
San Miguel 105.

In one or two parishes some protests were made, but no disturbance of any importance occurred during the day.

With pleasure we learn from Montevideo that there was no truth in the report of Dr. Fleury having had a brain attack. Dr. Fleury is as well as ever he was in all his life.

The critiques in the papers on Madame Duse Checchi's debut are of more than usual sublimity, and we doubt if the highly-gifted lady has ever read anything like them before. All the writers sing ardent sonnets to her eyes and eyebrows; but the rest of their remarks bear a strong odour of 'cribbing' from opinions previously emitted in other places. The fact is that the lady's high position as an actress is already won, and what we may say about her here won't affect her a jot. One admirer pulls her up for what was, certainly, a terrible slip in the great artiste she is said to be. In the most passionate part of a love scene with Loris, (Fedora was the play) one of her hairpins gave way, and she stopped to fix it up!!! Helen Faucit, or Mary Anderson, would not have done this. All agree that Ando is a splendid actor. The house was crammed to the doors with all the fairness, fashion, feathers' fame and finance of Buenos Ayres.

"At that," continued a story-teller who was narrating a personal experience," "my face fell." "Did anybody pick it up?" interrupted a quiet listener. "What do you mean?" "Oh, nothing; only if somebody had picked it up and hid it away out of sight, it would have been such a relief to your friends."

The Inscription of voters on Sunday passed off without any broken heads, but shoals of protests appeared in the papers yesterday morning. In some parishes the Juez de Paz did not turn up at all; in others he carried on at the Juzgado instead of the church, in spite of President Roca's decree; and in most there were no printed papers, or registers, or anything, and the whole business was done on foolscap. In fact the whole thing was racy of the soil and charmingly irregular, and we suppose illegal. In South Cathedral parish our highly esteemed racing friend Mr. Alberto Huergo was locked up for taking a peep at the 'mesa.'

The Misiones Boundary Commissioners will be named this week here and in Rio. It is thought President Roca will name Doctors Holmberg and Shiverwind. The latter gentleman's name will help to keep his fellow Commissioners cool while at their work during the broiling summer of Misiones

We have nothing particular to say about Sunday. It was rather like every other Sunday; Palermo full in the afternoon; the theatres full at night, and nothing whatever in the papers, except "Article Four," which has taken the place of the irrepressible Loan in public favor for the moment.

The Ensenada Railway Company has given ex-Governor Rocha a gold pass that will take him over that line to the end of his life. The Railway Governor deserves railway compliments.

There is capital news from old Chuput. The Jim Parry has arrived full of wheat, and will go back to the colony for 30,000 fanegas more. There are 13 vessels now loading wheat at the colony. Governor Fontana and a large party were about to start for the interior of the territory to look for gold and coal, "dos cosas buenas."

Senator Dr. Rocha went to Baradero on Sunday, but whether on business, politics, or pleasure we really cannot say. The place is not exactly one for pleasure.

November is the month for River Plate aquatics. The B. A. R. C. will have its annual turn-out on the 11th inst; and the Marina Club will inaugurate its new boathouse on the 2nd prox.

The Captain of the Hypatia has completely lost his case against Her Majesty's Consul. First instance and Appeal alike went against him, and he has to fork out costs.

The manual and platoon exercise for the army is going to be changed to a system invented by Captain Godoy. Nearly all changes in the Argentine army of late are new ideas of its own officers. New ideas are generally dangerously especially in military matters.

EDITOR'S TABLE

Those two roving blades the Toledos who "riz" such a ruction in Corrientes some months ago are now in Asuncion. The Colonel is making his fortune as "boss" of a very indifferent hotel; and the Major, his "caro fratello," is in bed, owing to some one having operated on him with a big knife, in a street brawl.

All the Generals, Gefes, and hope-to-be Gefes in the army have showered such a lot of congratulatory telegrams on the new War Minister that he is fairly enveloped in them. Dr. Pellegrini is remembered by the army as the most capable Minister that held the War portfolio for many years.

We always rejoice when smugglers are caught. They pounced on two in the Custom House last week: One a Calle Victoria firm that tried to run a lot of cigars and silks (queer bedfellows!) as fish from the Mount! and the other a wine-house firm that tried to pay duty on 80,000 instead of 200,000 litres, by means of a false declaration.

The Ensenada Railway track will have to be put back 1½ metre from the wall of the Government House, to suit the alterations going on there. This tawdry Government Palace has swallowed up a good lot of the deficit that procured us the plague of forced currency.

The Town Council are summoned again for to-night for a wooden pavement debate. All that a morning colleague said on Sunday about wooden pavement in London and Paris is true; but in those cities they don't care about the fun of tearing it up again the moment it is laid, as they could not afford it.

The Prensa keeps its eagle eye on the 'arqueos' scandal. It appears from the re-registration of Argentine vessels now being carried out that a gigantic system of fraud has been going on in this department for years and years.

Viva! The new schools' inauguration has been postponed till May 25th next. It's all stuff and nonsense. Open the schools and let the children begin their studies without this eternal throwing away of money in 'fiestas' and foolery on every available opportunity. It is this display and extravagance placed before the juvenile mind that fosters the national passion for luxury and spending money which is the bane of the country.

It is really a crying shame that the repairing of the footways should be botched in such a scandalous way. In addition to the ups and downs, which are now worse than before, the 'levelling' (save the mark!) began, sumpts and water mains are left projecting above the level of the 'vereda,' to the imminent danger of the public, especially at night. An old gentleman told us on Saturday that he was three days in bed lately from a heavy fall over one of these watercocks at night; and one of our reporters was sent spinning the other night on his way to a wake, dashing the toe out of his dexter patent leather, smashing his Gibus, and hopelessly damaging a pair of pale lavender kids he had just spent his last dollar on. He has been reversing his orisons for the Lord Mayor's special benefit ever since.

We really feel as if a good cry would do us a world of benefit. What do you think? Mar del Plata can never, or hardly ever, become the Brighton or Biarritz, or Trouville, or Rhyl, or Scarborough of the Plate; and the reason why is, that the sea there literally swarms with the most ferocious sharks, ready to make short work of fashionable bathers from Buenos Aires. We believe this same trifling drawback is to be met with all along the coast of the republic, from Cape St. Anthony to Cape Horn. The old Mount is still cock of the bathing walk.

There was a political shooting match in Balvanera parish on Saturday night, when a patriot named Viglone was potted and rolled over just as he alighted from a tram car. He swears that it was the Juez de Paz of the district that "downed" him; but his Worship has brought a score of witnesses to swear an alibi. We are happy to say that the damages of the wounded "patriota" have been repaired, and he is recovering.

"Did you ever go to a military ball?" asked a lispy maid of an old veteran. "No, my dear," growled the old soldier; "I once had a military ball come to me, and what do you think—it took my leg off."

Number 3652 won the $40,000 prize in the Lottery drawn on Sunday for the Merced Church. We hope some subscriber of ours had it.

The Boulevard Special Committees began work yesterday. Messrs. M. Aguirre, M. Unzue, and M. Guerrico take the blocks between Bolivar and Chacabuco, and Messrs Santiago Estrada, N. Arocena and Colonel Bosch that between Chacabuco and Piedras. In a month or two there will be a general exodus from those blocks, and where the evicted are to find room to lay their heads will be the question of the day.

General and Dr. Victorica, Argentine Minister in Uruguay, has rented the Le Hir quinta Paso Molino for the summer months.

Nueva Bomba Patente
'SIMPLEX'
La Bomba mas barata, mas duradera y eficaz
Inventada hasta hoy.

La falta de una Bomba simple, eficaz y barata ha sido sentida hace mucho tiempo, que sin perdida de fuerza ni peligro de ser atacada pueda bombar toda clase de liquidos.

Para suplir esta falta ha sido inventada—

La nueva Bomba
"SIMPLEX"

La cual es igualmente util tanto para bombar liquidos de todas clases como para pozos y algibes.

Damos a continuacion el resumen de algunas de sus ventajas:

Su construccion es lo mas simple, teniendo un embolo de fierro que no requiere cueros ni rellenos, y que jamas puede descomponerse.

Las válvulas son hechas de modo que ni paja, arena, hojas etc. etc., puedan atascarla ni evitar que funcione.

Es sumamente portatil y puede ser trasferida de los arroyos, algibes, pozos y la cañeria desurida con la mayor facilidad y sin labor.

Funciona rapidamente y la cantidad de agua que extrae es enorme, considerando la fuerza requerida.

Es superior en todos casos a cualquier otra bomba.

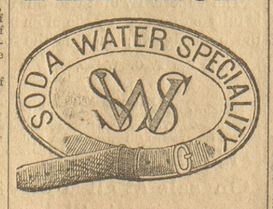

Esta bomba es especialmente adaptable a una Estancia para bombar agua llenar barriles en los arroyos, vaciar baños para ovejas, regar quintas, bombar liquidos en hormigueros, nidos de bichos etc, etc. etc.

Cedulas E 81½

Nat. Bank Shares 148
Nat. Bank Scrip 110

The market opened firm this morning at last Saturday's closing rates, and a hard tendency prevailed in the speculation all day. In spite of the large sales of a leading broker at the ring the market advanced steadily and closed firm as a rock. Fifty thousand gold dollars changed hands for cash at 40.20 and 40.50 o/o. About 70,000 were sold for Saturday at 40½ to 40. Sixty thousand were sold for the 15th at 39 80 to 40.20. Operations for the end of the month embraced 240,000; the market opened at 40, fell to 39.30, but closed very firm at 40. Over 300,000 dollars were sold for the end of November; rates opened at 39½, fell to 38½, and closed at 39. Operations for the end of December amounted to 130,000; operations opened at 39, fell to 38½, and closed at the opening rate. There was a steady demand all morning for gold for the end of November and December. The market closed very firm, with a strong, rising tendency. Operations during official hours amounted to nearly nine hundred thousand dollars.

An unexpected spurt shook National Bank stock and revived the delaying hopes of the shareholders. Nearly 2,000 Certificates were sold for the end of the month at 111 to 110. Fifty shares changed hands at 148; 500 were sold for the end of the month at the same rate, and 300 were sold, on call up to the end of December, at 151. The effect of the forced currency bill is beginning to tell on the stock; the shareholders believe that the paid-up stock will go to 200 next year; but this is a case of the wish being father to the thought.

Cedulas looked decidedly firmer this morning. A few thousand Series E changed hands at 81½, and F at 81¼ and 81. Operations in Series G embraced 82,800 for cash at 87½-¼, and a few thousand for to-morrow at the latter rate.

The Provincial Bank has lowered its drawing rate to 33½, in view of the rise in the gold premium. The present rate of the Bank fixes gold under the closing quotation of the premium during official hours. If the Bank draws steadily, the market must fall under 40 o/o. The bullish wave, however, is very strong at present.

The Agricola Pastoril Company have bought for $75,000 all the belongings of the saladero, owned by Messrs. Conforte & Mauret and situated at the Cerro, near a place called Pantanoso. This saladero is known by the name of Ramon Gomez.

The Umberto I° is on her way out to the R. Plate with 1,000 passengers and emigrants. The arrivals of emigrants for the last nine months exceed 75,000, and about 30,000 more are expected in the next three months. They are much wanted, and many thousands more.

The exchange market continues dull, and brokers report the situation weak. Small amounts were passed this morning at 46⅞. The weakness in exchange circles is abnormal at this time of the year. As a rule, rates rise with the dawn of the busy season.

The money market shews the usual feature of great ease in paper, and the tendency of the market points to further ease in spite of the prospective demands of the wool season. Gold rules tight, and the Banks let out little or nothing. It looks as if the market is on the eve of very cheap paper and very dear gold.

National Government Bills appear to be completely out of the market. The plethora of this paper in previous months is now replaced by a most remarkable scarcity of these bills. The Treasury issues few of them, although the demands daily put in are steady and numerous. When the Treasury begins to emit them, a very large amount will be probably thrown on the market.

The Paraguayan Government has sold 7,000 leagues of public lands up to the present. The demands of speculators in this line are subsiding, but there are supposed to be many applicants yet. The Paraguayan Treasury ought to be flush of money now.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the ring during official hours:—

For Oct. 10th 68,000 at 140.50-140-140.20

At afterhours not much done; gold ruled rather firmer; sales made for to-morrow at 140.70, and for end of month at 140.30. The business in Congress was much discussed, and some brokers insisted that the bill would be taken up to-night at 9 p.m. for discussion, as the Committee had despatched it.

Exchange rules firmer, 4.95 francs passed and in sterling 46⅞. Some of the Calle Maipu houses offering to draw at 4.93.

It is rumoured on 'Change that the Lord Mayor will at once commence his Bouleward and begin by expropriating the Pasage Roverano in order to put the Tribunales there.

Victoria do do in Jaguari and Montevideo for Channel, 15s 6d
Vessels in distress in port—
Norw. barque Milanesia before reported. Has now completed repairs and is ready for sea.
Norw. bgt. Frode put in leaking. After having topsides caulked proceeded on her voyage.
Brit. str. Hermes, from Liverpool, wrecked at Castillos. Part of the cargo has been saved. Vessel is a total wreck.
Brit. barque Craigmuller put in here with master sick. Vessel proceeded in charge of mate to West Coast.
Brit. str. Gainsford still ashore at Castillos Grandes.

Freight Report—
Our market here continues very dull, only small shipments being made and rates for steamers cannot be expected to improve till about November, when produce will be more plentiful.
Several steamers have loaded here small quantities of hides for New York completing their cargoes in Rio. Grain is now principally shipped from B Ayres and the rivers, and very little more will be sent forward from here.
Rates for steamers rule from 20 to 23 francs for grain from the rivers above B. Ayres, and 15 to 17½ francs from B. Ayres or Montevideo. Bales 15 to 20 francs, but with very few going forward.
Freights for sailing vessels are very scarce generally, but a good many have been chartered to load grain at the Boca and from up the Parana at rates varying from 18 to 23 fcs. Several have also been chartered to load bone-ash at from 14s to 16s. The number of vessels is greatly in excess of the demand, and the majority can find no employment but have to leave in ballast. The list of charters given shows the state of the coasting trade, in which a considerable number of Scandinavian and Dutch vessels are engaged.
From Messrs. Goles & Rivero's circular, dated Paysandu, Sept. 30th, we take the following list of vessels despatched from the 20th August to date:—
Gerhard and Adolph, from Mocoreta with 480 tons bone-ash and bones, for order.
Ariadne, from Mocoreta, 8,171 hides and 488 pipes tallow f.o.
Rosalind, from Colon and Sacra, 646½ pipes tallow f.o.
Elegant, from Naranjal and Colon, 8,168 hides f.o.
Red Deer, from Guaviyu, Salto and Concordia, 700 tons bones and bone-ash for Baltimore.
Alma, from port, Salto and Concordia, 353 tons bones and 6,038 dry hides for New York.
S P Berg, from Guaviyu, 500 tons bones and bone-ash for Baltimore.
Claudine, from Sacia, 6,500 hides and 150 pipes tallow for order.
Reno, from Colon, 500 tons bones and bone-ash f.o.
Vessels loading—
Amer. barque Don Justo with bone-ash and bones for the U. States; charterers, Messrs. Hufnagel, Plottier & Co.
Ital. barque Tomasso, with bones and bone-ash from the saladero Concordia for order; charterers, Messrs. Arning & Hütz.

Imperishable Fragrance.

Murray & Lanman's
CELEBRATED
Florida Water.

The richest, most lasting, yet most delicate of all perfumes for use on the Handkerchief, at the Toilet and in the Bath, delightful and healthful in the sick room, relieves weakness, fatigue, prostration, nervousness and headache. Look out for counterfeits, always ask for the Florida Water prepared by the sole proprietors, Messrs. Lanman & Kemp, New York.
For Sale by Perfumers, Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

LANMAN & KEMP'S PURE MEDICINAL Cod-Liver Oil, guaranteed by their trade mark, stands unimpeached and unsurpassed—a standard article of the highest possible purity and efficacy. As proofs of its remedial potency, we may mention the following recent cures: Rev. Lemuel Boyd, Iowa City, of bronchitis; Col. Belknap, Washington, D. C., of chronic cough of long standing, Jacob Ellery, Esq., railroad engineer, Panama, of liver disease; Mrs. E. J. Mead, Sacramento, of incipient consumption; Ira Jackson, Esq., Chicago, of pneumonia; Miss Jane Westford, Hartford, of general debility occompanied with extreme emaciation; and Mr. James Reynolds Coats, Indianapolis, of chronic sore throat. This column might be filled with the names of convalescents, whose letters are on file. The preparation is kept by all druggistt of any prominence.

Important Notice.

I hereby advise the public that I have established a Gymnasium Institute at Calle Florida 406, where I also apply the MASSAGE SYSTEM as studied and practiced at Dr. KELLGREN'S well known institute in London.
This system has given the most surprising results in curing chest and lung complaints, and all maladies caused by the kidneys and joints, and in any way connected with the nervous system. Thus the celebrated SYSTEM of MASSAGE is recommended as a certain cure for rheumatism, asthma, undeveloped muscles, paralysis, disorders in the digestion and in the circulation of the blood, etc., etc.
I have also a special class for the development of the body and muscles.
The following is the time-table I have arranged for the application of the Massage System:
For Gentlemen 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.
For Ladies 12½ to 2 p.m.
Consultation hours—11.30 a.m. to 12.30.
Patients can also make arrangements for the application of the Massage System at their own residences.
